

Educational Training for Community Health Workers and Promotores on COVID -19, Flu, and RSV* Prevention

Topics Include:

- COVID-19, Flu, and RSV*
- Health equity
- Importance of vaccines
- Oral and behavioral health
- Farmworker health
- Access to healthcare

*Respiratory syncytial virus is a common virus that usually causes mild, cold-like symptoms.

In-Person Classes will be held in Spanish

Location:

CLINICA SIERRA VISTA (DENTALCONFERENCE ROOM)
2756 S. ELM AVE.,
FRESNO, CA 93706

DATE:

March 12, 2024
9:00 a.m.- 3:00
p.m.

Participation certificates will be provided

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Educate farmworker communities about COVID-19, RSV, flu preventative measures, and updated protection guidelines.
- Share resources to access vaccines and COVID-19 treatments.
- Provide farmworker communities with resources on mental, behavioral, and oral health.

For more information please contact:

Lisbeth Gall gall@ncfh.org

Register before
March 10, 2024

To register, scan here

Or follow the link:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/TTY3YDK>

